

Cattle Breeding: what should we do next?

a Democs card game

to discuss how we should use our new knowledge of genetic science in breeding cattle for milk and meat

This Democs game has been created by Edinethics Ltd. and the University of Edinburgh as part of the BovReg Project. The BovReg project has received funding from the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme under grant agreement No 815668.
